FINDING GUIDE FOR THE CARONDELET CONSOLIDATED ARCHIVES, SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH OF CARONDELET

Compiled November 2020; Last Rev. Nov. 2026

Consolidated Archives History

In 1650, the Sisters of St. Joseph formed in LePuy, France, under the guidance of Jean Pierre Medaille, SJ. The first Sisters of St. Joseph came from Lyon, France, to America in 1836, establishing two convents: one in Carondelet (a village on the outskirts of St. Louis, MO), and Cahokia, IL (which closed in 1855). Eventually, four provinces were formed: St. Louis, St. Paul, Albany, and Los Angeles. Foundations in Hawaii, Japan, and Peru led to the establishment of Vice Provinces in those regions, although Japan became Region I of the Los Angeles Province in 2011 and Hawaii amalgamated with the Los Angeles Province in 2017.

In 2018, the congregation and its archivists began consolidating the majority of their archival holdings into one physical location at the Motherhouse in St. Louis, MO, which was christened the Carondelet Consolidated Archive (then changed to Carondelet Consolidated Archives in late 2021). These holdings include materials from the Albany, Los Angeles, and St. Louis Provinces, as well as the Congregational Center and the former Vice Province of Hawaii. The St. Paul Province did not transfer their archives, as their holdings contain locally rich information that is better suited to remain physically available in St. Paul, MN.

While all these materials are housed at the Carondelet Consolidated Archives under one central roof, they are stored separately on the shelves and maintain their own original, unique classification systems.

Statement on Harmful Language

Within these collections, users will encounter offensive or harmful language referencing race, gender, sexuality, disability, and/or religion. Materials in these collections reflect the time in which they were created and are preserved for their historical and research value. The Carondelet Consolidated Archives is dedicated to the preservation of original context while recognizing the importance of language and its effect on users of our materials and those represented within them.

How to Use This Finding Aid

Please note that each collection utilizes its own classification system of record group and series numbers. While there will be some overlap of subjects amongst the collections, they are largely unique in that they focus on the Sisters, places, and events specific to each Province/Vice Province. Also, this finding aid might not include materials that are still housed in their originating provinces. This is also a living document and is subject to change as materials are accessioned into these collections.

1. Keyword Searching

For best results, please utilize the "find" option in your PDF viewer (in Adobe Acrobat, hit CTRL-F to open the search bar) to search for specific words, such as Names, Places, or Subjects.

2. Browsing

Please browse each collection below, and if you locate any materials you wish to learn more about, be sure to note the Province/Vice Province collection name and the record group/series number. Contact the archivist for further assistance.

Research Requests

On-site research is available by appointment only, Monday through Friday, at the Carondelet Consolidated Archives in St. Louis, MO. Please read our Access Policy and User Agreement for more information.

For requests where the researcher is not able to visit the archives in person to conduct their own research, archive staff will make every effort to perform due diligence in researching the topic on their behalf, as time permits, but will spend no more than one hour conducting research on behalf of another person. For more involved and time-consuming requests, researchers will be notified that they should consider scheduling a future visit to thoroughly browse through any relevant collections in person, as our finding aids and databases are not an inclusive representation of the entire archives.
